COMMON SENSE COURTSHIPS—WISDOM OF THE PROSAICAL LOVE AFFAIR

Various Sentimental Manifestations of the Grand Passion Often More or Less Ludierous to the Uninitiated.

By ELLEN ADAIR

sights for the dear just days of common sense, and becomes firmly convinced of the wisdom of the merely prosaic.

I would you were a goldfish in a bowl.

That I might put my arms about your life, sights one sentimental lady in print to her problematic lover. And if the latter is a man of common sense he will certainly resent such fishy or at least aquatic talk.

"You are my almond blossom in a world of gray" simpers yet another damsel over the telephone to her lover, trouble with his employer through these untimely billings and coolings over the

Just because two persons happen to be in love with each other is no reason why they should kick over all traces of common sense and become as little children once more! In fact, no children that I have met ever acted as did an elderly Romeo and Juliet of my acquaintance who fondly halled each other by the sobriquet of "Tweetums" and "Tweete."

They didn't mind who overheard the baby talk in which the greater part of their

WHEN one seams the columns of the daily papers and sees therein the extraordinary attitudes which many supposed lovers take toward each other, and the peculiar manifestations of regard which so under the title of courtship, one signs for the dear lost days of common same, and becomes firmly convinced of the wisdom of the merely pressic.

And this is how courtship affects some people.

In the spring of last year I spent a few days in Portemouth, in the south of England. It is a great naval place, and several of the officers

there were 'newly-wede,' According to British naval custom, they were allowed to go ashore in the afternoons, and re-turned to their respective cruisers or battleships for dinner battleships for dinner about 7 o'clock in the evening. If a dance were being given, ladies were lavited on board. But the days of weeping and lamentation among the brides were those on which the great cruisers silently swept off for a few days' target weeters. cruisers silently swept off for a few days' target practice at sea. The officers' little brides would sit on the low sea-wall that runs along the parade, straining their eyes and waving their moist little handkerchiefs after the departing ships. A two days' separation was anothema to them! They would sit and sob, although they knew that their dear departeds would they knew that their dear departeds would be back in something under 48 hours.

One wonders how these little brides are bearing up under the real and very terrible separations of today. Probably they have no time for tears, for they are all working busily and helping hard.

WOMAN LAWYER WINS HER WAY TO HIGH RANK AT THE BAR

Miss A. Florence Yerger Talks of Career in Which Efficiency and Intelligent Work Have Gained Her Distinction and Profit in Learned Profession.

WOMAN lawyer, who has more cases A than she can handle and whose daily business in untangling the legal quirks of business in untangling the legal quirks of an envisable cilentele makes it necessary for her to maintain three offices in vari-ous sections of the city, cannot under-stand why so many young women in choosing their vocations continue to rush into unremunerative, uninteresting fields that are already overcrowded when the law offers such a broad opportunity.

The name of this successful Philadelphia Portia is Miss A. Florence Yerger. Dur-ing the eight years that she has been ening the eight years that she has been engaged in her profession in this city she has acquired a practice that many a struggling male barrister would thank his stars to have. And this in face of the certain opposition which a woman is bound to meet when she elects to depart from the track which women have heaten.

Eaten. But Miss Yerger's principle has been to beat her own track and no phase of law has been technical or abstruce enough to frighten her away.

For this reason the record of her cases includes all kinds, admiralty, corporation, criminal, equity and what not. She has fought railroads and banking houses, has defended cases in the little magistrates' courts as well as in the Supreme Court, has had her share of victories coupled with her quota of defeats.

It's all in the day's work of a woman lawyer as well as a man and the secret of the success of a business woman, as it is conceived by Miss Yerger, is efficiency, first, last and at all times—an efficiency which defies men to say to a woman: "You won your case because you are a woman and not because you are a

MENTALITY HAS NO GENDER. For a long time," she said the other day, talking of her work, "the world in general was prone to regard the profes-sion of law a purely man's province and the legal mind one which could never by any chance be associated with the feminine gray matter.

"This is all a mistake, in my opinion.
Mentality is neither feminine nor masculine, and given the same training as a man a woman often proves herself not only his equal but in some cases his superior 'I do believe, however, that men have a slight advantage over us physically, for I know that, although I am a healthy woman, when I have been grinding over a big case, for months perhaps, I feel pretty much done up over it-more so than a man, I suppose. But perhaps they get worn out, too, and don't tell specific to the second to the secon t it."

error for women to depend on their femi-ninity in achieving success in the business world. Miss Yerger is a decidedly wom-anly woman with a feminine hobby that would expect least of all of a lawyer.

FIRST VICTORY IN DAINTY HAT.

PHILADELPHIA'S PORTIA Miss A. Florence Yerger.

party late in the afternoon and as I had just hung out my shingle I wasn't exactly looking for a case. But two men whom I knew, lawyers, called upon me unexpectedly and asked me to handle this case for them, and so in my white frock and my fancy flowered hat I appeared in court to show why an injunction should be granted to restrain a ship from sailing because some of the workmen hadn't been paid. paid.

"I suppose it was disrespectful to the Judge not to remove my hat, but it was such a pretty one and I was so unused to court customs that I kept it on."

Whether it was the hat or whether it was her persuasive ability Miss Yerger was her persuasive ability Miss Yerger is too modest to decide, but the fact remains that success greeted this first effort of hers. And from that time on, though she has been metamorphosed from the timid, shrinking girl lawyer pleading her first case into a well-poissed, confident woman, unafraid to stand up with the brightest lights of the profession, she still retains her love of prefix charges. etains her love of pretty chapeaux. GRADUATE OF THE U. OF P.

Miss Yerger took her law degree from he University in 1907. For four years before she matriculated she worked in a lawyer's office to make the money to pay for her course, and throughout the en-tire time she was studying was forced to retain her position in order to support herself. "Eleven girls started in the class with in the fall.

vests, collar and cuffs.

me," she said, "and only three remained to graduate. This was a great pity, besatisface and is willing to apply her-self there is no profession from which she will gain more, both in joy in her work and in actual remuneration, than in law. Regardless, too, of what a man or a woman's business is, I think a "I'll never forget the first case I ever tried and the flowered hat I appeared in court in. It was an admiralty case, I remoinber. I had planned to go to a dinner of the equipment for every business career. It is vital and it is interesting."

Frisky Scorns a House of Wood

Now it just happened that the two little near the garden where Mr. and Mrs. Prisky Cottontail had come to live knew nothing about the home Frisky and his little trute had made in the golden slow flower hed. No, they didn't even guess about it. But they knew about Frisky-oh, dear, me. yea! For, you see, they offer applied him running about in search of food. They were kind and thoughtful children, though, and when they noticed children. of fond. They were kind and thoughtful bildren, though, and when they noticed new tiruld and easily frightened Friaky seemed to be, they made no effort to get lies to him! they just watched at a safe

That was the way it happened that they knew about Frisky, and he knew nothing about them. Weren't they kind little felke?

But after Frisky had lived in the garden for several days, the children felt that it was time for him to be getting

Have you seen where he lives?" asked fied of his little sister, when he saw her ming thoughtfully by the fence watch-ily waste Frisky usually ran for his sup-

"Yes," whispered Mary Jane. "I saw has been seen to be seen food we over had or over have seen is seen a whole piece of the lettuce leaves and a whole piece of tarret I had laid on the sarden walk for blen."

The witter does he live? repeated Need tableshing softly up to his asset; "Well, don't take any chances." Mrs. Frisky cautioned him. "We had better do without some food than to have anything hopeen to you."

"Never fear, little mats." replied frinky and together than bouse it." Need fear, little mats." replied from and together than which he pink rease such as the pink rease such as the pink rease and the wax, for he mover went inside a frisky tack his pink rease and the wax, for he mover went inside the noise Ned had inside.

Every day Ned worked on the rabbit nouse. It was made of the nicest, whitest

But it is one thing to make a rabbit But it is one thing to make a rabbit house and quite another thing to make the rabbit himself live in the new dwelling—as Ned soon found. He put tempting bits of letture close by the open front door; he put carrots and tit-bits of grasses just inside the netting. And Frisky found them all—oh, yes! But so quick and cloves was he that not once did he go clear inside the new house.

"It's a queer thing" early video to the control of the con

"It's a queer thing," said Frisky to his little mate, after a special effort to get some goodies Ned had placed just inside the cage door, "but somehow it seems that the nicest food we over had or ever heard of its siways just close by that queer new box over there," with a new effect shown in the gored seams. They have are used around the bottom of the skirt. The lines of the skirt. The lines of the skirt. The lines of the skirt are presty, with the wide take at the front, finished off with old gold braiding a TAFFETAS FROCK FOR AFTERNOON WEAR and deep casy frings.

WHERE WORKING MOTHERS MAY LEAVE THEIR BABIES

Scenes in the day nursery supported by the Sisters of St. Joseph, at 4719 Lancaster avenue.

DAY NURSERY GIVES JOY TO BABIES OF WORKING MOTHERS

Institution of Sisters of St. Joseph an Ideal Retreat for Little Ones-Cleanliness and Care for Helpless But Happy Children.

Maybe if you were a pessimistic kid it would seem a mighty hard thing to be taken away from your home every morning to a day nursery while your mother went out to work. Maybe you'd kick and protest and say you didn't like it a bit, but if you were being conveyed to the Lancaster Avenue Day Nursery, at 4719 Lancaster avenue, it would only be because you had never been there before. Passersby in this vicinity testify to the fact that the squeats of joy and laughter which come from this day nursery could only emanate from youngsters whose only emanate from youngsters whose hearts were brimming over with happiness, and one visit only would be needed to demonstrate the splendid niche which this institution is filling in that neighborhood. A talk with the mothers of the kiddles who are fortunate enough to be taken there would but emphasize the noint.

bring their children, ranging in ages from 6 weeks to 8 years, to the nursery. Those who can afford to do so pay 5 cents a day for their keep; those who can't, don't, and the person who could notice any difference in the way the "pald-for" kiddles are treated from those who come free doesn't exist; because there is no difference.

The first thing that strikes the eye of the visitor is the absolute cleanliness of the place. The Sisters of St. Joseph, who care for the children, have been in-structed by a trained nurse, and there-fore not only the moral, but the physical well-being of the youngsters is looked after.

The children assemble on clear days in The children assemble on clear days in the yard, cool and comfortable in the play clothing of the nursery. All of them seem supremely happy, from the three-months-old "Lady Mary," whose voice slightly raised claimed attention as promptly as a traffic cop's whistle, to the 7-year-old "little mother," who brings her baby brother and then stays to help amuse the other children. They are all sizes, some fat, some thin, some more intelligent than others, but none are discontented.

WHEN DINNER BELL RINGS. At 11 o'clock the dinner bell rings, and into the dining room they pile. The tables and benches are graduated according to size. Each child knows its place and it doesn't take long for each one to "fall to" on the appetizing soup served to them. After dinner the washing process is in order. Lined up at the little stationary basins, they wash and scrub until all sign of dust and stickiness disappear. Then they are put to bed. Two rooms there are, filled with little white iron cribs, and each haby knows its own.

At 2 o'clock restless heads begin to bob up and the eager little feet are impatient to get down to the lunch of bread and milk that is served in the dining room. Out to the playground after that until homegoing time. At 5 o'clock, after another trip to the washroom, and a change

RAINY DAY PLEASURES. On rainy days there are the indoor play-rooms, where the kiddles are amused with games and stories and the more ambitious from the play clothes to their street clothes, the children are ready to be taken home until the next day.

learn to spell and count.

During the school months the attendhood. A talk with the mothers of the kiddles who are fortunate enough to be taken there would but emphasize the point.

IDEAL DAY NURSERY.

The Lancaster Avenue Day Nursery, supported largely through the efforts of the Mother of Sorrows Catholic Church and by voluntary contributions, is in charge of the good Sisters of St. Joseph. Every day grateful mothers who would otherwise have to leave their babies in charge of the cider children of the family or with neighbors, illy paid for the job.

NAVY BLUE A PRACTICAL CHOICE FOR THE WOMAN WHO TRAVELS

A prize of $1 will be awarded daily for the best practical suggestion. No suggestions will be

A prize of $1 has been awarded to Mrs. I. Ginsberg, 1607 North 10th street, Philadelphia, for the following suggestion:

I have made a

114 or 2 inches thick.
Sharpen one end so that it may be driven into the ground. Put two screw eyes on the top-brass ones if you have them —about two inches apart. Now drive your post into the ground. You can put the nozale of your hose between the screw eyes and turn them in any direction you choose. It is a very handy contrivance.

No Jobs for Girls at Fair

A survey of unemployment among somen in San Francisco has just been completed by the California branch of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae. As a consequence, warnings are being sent throughout the country to women and girls bound for the Panama-Pacific Exposition without money, friends or a definite position. To show that this warning is needed the American Social. warning is needed the American Social Hygiene Association calls attention to the city's moral conditions, which give cause for anxiety.

According to the collegiate alumnae the factories, department stores and offices have an oversupply of labor as well as the exposition. At the employment bureau of the exposition there were on file at the time of the opening of the great fair more than 190,000 applications for positions, about a tenth of which were from women. The number of positions filled by women is not more than one thousand.

Saving Time

Nowadays, in the business world, all the new inventions seem to have one end in view, the saving of time. We housekeepers in our no less impor-tant field, must keep pace with the men and be on the watch for new ways and new means to save not only our time, but our strength, our energies. I shall be glad to share with you one secret I have learned and that is to make several desserts at a time. You will be surprised to find how much little extra trouble it is, when sugar, flour, vanilla, butter and eggs are spread on the table before you and the dessert for the day's dinner finished, to make as well several cup custards and a ple or some jelly.

The refrigerator is stocked in this way for two or three days and the trouble of producing morning after morning the nine or ten ingredients necessary for the simplest pudding avoided.

Work Thou for Pleasure Work thou for pleasure; paint or sing or carve

The thing thou lovest, though the body Who works for glory misses oft the goal; Who works for money coins his very work for work's sake then, and it well may be
That these things will be added unto thee.

-Kenyon Cox.

Suffrage Events Today EQUAL FRANCHISE SOCIETY.

Nonn-Open-air meeting on the postoffice plaza, 8th and Chestnut streets. Speaker, Miss iteritis Sapovits. S.p. m. Open-air meeting at 60th and San-som streets. Speaker, Miss Bertha Sapovits. 5:30 p. m. Open-air meeting at Front and Dauphin streets. Speaker, Miss Anna Mc-Cus. WOMAN SUFFRAGE PARTY.

8 p. m.—Open-air meeting at Germantown and Lehigh avenues. Mrs. William Albert Wood speaks.

8:30 p. m.—Suffrage meeting at 556 Dauphin airest. Speakers. Miss Barah Pisher. Dr. E. M. H. Moore, Mrs. Phil. Hughes and Miss Eatelle Russel. CATHOLIC WOMEN'S SUFFRAGE LEAGUE.

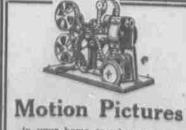

10 a. m.—The league opens headquarters at room did. North American Building. The league has been but recently formed and has held its meetings and other activities at various halls near the centre of the city until permanent headquarters should have been obtained. Miss Dille Hastings will be the supervisor at the quarters in the North American Building.

CHESTER DA CHESTER, PA.

8:15 p. m.—Suffrage meeting at the F. M. C. A. Speakers, Mrs. William Ward and Miss Ethel Lee Rankin, of Colorado.

What's Doing Tonight Municipal Band, Athletic Playground, Jeffer-ion and 26th streets; 5 o'clock, Free. Pairmount Park Band, Strawberry Mansion

Philosophia Hand, City Hall Plaza; S o'clock From.
Philosophical Chapter, American Institute of Bankers, 1701 Chapter, Microsty, 104 South 5th street; S o'clock.
Philosophical Society, 104 South 5th street; S o'clock.

in your home or wherever you want them, at whatever time you want them. The 'Pathe-scope' Motion Picture Machine makes this pessible without the expense or trouble of a special booth, operator or fire insurance. How inexpensive and simple to operate may be learned by a visit or postal to the Pathescope Fachange of Philadelphia 816 Croxer Bidg. Phile, Par.

SHALL SEX BE A FACTOR IN ELECTION OF TEACHER

Woman's Candidacy for High School Principalship Prompts Query.

Is a woman, splendidly prepared both by training and experience, as capable of filling an important executive position as a man? With three candidates in the field for a job, two men and a woman, should the question of sex be allowed to exert any influence in the choice?

These are questions which will come up before the Board of Education on July 13, when the members meet to elect a principal for the new Southern High School for Girls.

The three names which have been men The three names which have been men-tioned are: Dr. Lucy Langdon W. Wilson, head of the department of biology in the Normal School and principal of the Wil-liam Penn Evening High School for Girls, which she founded 10 years ago; Prof. William F. Gray, in charge of the manual training department of the Central High School and principal of the Central Evening High School, and Prof. William F. Mearns, a teacher in the School of Fedagogy and an authoritative educationalist.

Many people who believe Doctor Wilson to be the hest equipped for the berth fear that the board will reject der selely on account of her sex. Of the three candidates named, she is the only one holding the degree of Doctor of Philosophy. It is said that Simon Gratz favors her election, while Avery D. Harrington, it is thought, will nominate Doctor Gray, and John Burt will name Professor Mearns.

PARK BAND WILL PLAY

Two Concerts Scheduled at Strawberry Mansion.

The programs for concerts this aftersoon and tonight by the Fairmount Park

Band at Strawberry Mansjon are as fol-AFTERNOON, 4 TO 6 O'CLOCK.

erture, 'Fra Diavolo' ..........Auber of Mayerber.

(a) "A Vision of Salome"

(b) Melodies from "The Civil War". Caivin Aira from "The Grand Mogul". Luders Vales de Concert. "Artist's Life". Strauss (a) "A Vild Rosebud". Tobani (b) "The Warblers" Serensde". Perry Suite, "Americana". Thurban Medley, "I'm On My Way to Mandalay."

Xylophone solo, "Jolly Robbers" .... Suppe Soloist, Peter Lewin. Dvorak (a) "Humoreske" .... Dvorak (f) Tarantelle, "Pecheur et Napolitaine." Melodies from 'The Chocolate Soldier,' "Star-Spangled Banner."

CONCERT ON CITY HALL PLAZA Philadelphia Band to Give Musical Program.

The program for the concert tonight by the Philadelphia Band on City Hall Plaza is as follows:

Charles A. Norato, solotat.

The Benediction of the Poignards" (The

SUFFRAGE BELL HAS COVERED 400 MILES

Party Enthusiastic at Reception Met With in Western Pennsylvania.

SHARON, Pa., July 2. - The Women's Suffrage liberty bell has now covered more than 400 miles and has been cheered by more than 75,000 people in its tm through western Pennsylvania. The party leaves today for New Castle. The first accident of the tour occurrent near Greenville yesterday, when one of the tension rods of the truck broke, ne-cessitating repairs at the garage. The Mercer meeting had to be canceled. The bell was the principal attraction 5 a Chautauqua parade here last night.

The members were driven in automobiles over the principal streets headed head band. The open-air meeting was attended by 1000 people, a large part of whom were women. The addresses were delivered by Miss Mary Stewart, of Mastana, and Miss Louise Hall, of Harry burg. Their speeches were received we enthusiasm. Mrs. J. A. McLaughry, we of one of the candidates for the Judes white nomination in Mercer County, was a Chautauqua parade here last night. of one of the candidates for the jude ship nomination in Mercer County, we in charge of the meeting.

Mercer County members of the Women's Suffrage party gave the party enthusia-tic receptions at Greenville and Shares Traveling through a rich farming conmunity the bell attracted many farmers and their wives to the public roads in see It.

The members of the party are enthus-astic over the trip, and feel confident that it will result in much good.

To Remove Grass Stains

Get some lump fuller's earth from the druggist, wet it, and place on the stalk Let it remain there for a couple of hour, and then rub lightly. If the first application does not remove the stain, apply a second time, brushing off when perfectly

WHITE SHEE DRESSING

Easy to Use Saves Time Saves Trouble ASK YOUR DEALER

SULLIVAN MFG. CO., CAMDEN, N. J.

"For the Woman INCOMPARABLE CREAMS Who Cares"

Greaseless Cream Cleansing Cream Protects your skin from chap and wind burn; will impart to your complexion the velvety bloom of youth. Incomparable for ridding the pores of all impurities; will give the pure clear complexion of perfect beauty. These two essential creams are scientifically prepared to be used in conjunction with each other, and will produce results obtainable in no other way. 25c and 50c

plexo Evening Tuhite

Imparts that soft, pearly white tone to arms, throat and shoulders.

An Absolutery Harmless Gream Easily applied with a damp sponge, and does not rub off. Unsurpassed for the evening tollette and dansant. 35c the tube.
Get it at Evans's, Biker-Hegeman and department stores.

PLEXO DREDAR

Let Your Meals Cook Themselves

The Duplex Fireless Stove Will Cook an Entire Meal with Little Attention or Expense. Quickly pays for itself.

A kitchen equipped with a Duplex Fireless flove is a kitchen that need not be entered while the meal is copking. The Duples does its own basting, and meats retain their flavor and mainture; vegetables, etc., do not have to be constantly watched to prevent burning.

The woman who owns a Duplex merely prepares the food for cocking, places it in the Duplex and forgets it until lime to serve.

The Duplex uses ne gas ar other fuel while sceking. And foods are better cocking, more easily digasted than if cooked over the fire or in the even.

Any one can understand and operate Dupler Fireless Store. It is simplicity list acturalishing Stores in Philadelphia from Mig. Co., 169 Chambers St. D. S.